COOLING OFF • You may cancel your membership during the cooling off period, which is 48 hours. • A fee will be charged for this cancellation as per your home clubs pricelist and your membership agreement. • Under the cooling off policy, your club reserves the right to take the amount due on the first contracted debit date, in the absence of payment being made by other means.

DIRECT DEBIT MEMBERSHIPS • From the date your Home Club receives your written request to cancel your membership, two further debits are required plus a cancellation fee if applicable. You will be entitled to use the club for the full period paid for. • All sessions and services used must be paid for in order for your membership to be finalised. These can be paid for in full or may be included as part of your cancellation fees. • If you cancel your membership within your fixed term or minimum term end date (specified on your membership agreement) you will also be required to pay an early cancellation fee which is specified on your membership agreement. Please refer to your Product Disclosure Statement and Club's Price List for full Terms and Conditions and applicable fees in relation to your request.
